

GRADUATION GREETINGS

*They've ground it into your thinking
And hammered it into your bones,
That the good rise up like bubbles
And the evil sink like stones.*

*They've drilled you with guns on the campus,
And taught you the arts of gore;
You're an A-1 competent killer
In line for the coming war.*

*They gave you a fancy diploma,
With a speech by a wealthy snob;
You're a certified, guaranteed moron.
Let's hope you can find a job.*

*Come into the world so perfect,
Have a look at the hungry men.
Have a look at the lives of workers
And study your lessons again.*

*The stools of the clerks are many;
The mahogany desks are few.
The breadlines stretch for many a block;
There's room at the end for you.*
